EUGENE, Ore., Feb. 18 (AP) — An official of the University of Oregon said yesterday that the Central Intelligence Agency was the biggest single employer of the university's 1966 graduates.

Eugene Dils, director of University placement, said the CIA hires an estimated 20 or more Oregon students a year.

Tom Culhane, the CIA recruiter who visits the Oregon campus twice annually, told the Eugene Register-Guard he talks to 70 to 100 students each year at the University.
